STATUS ORDER

Re: Dkt. Nos. 391, 398

Case No. 19-cv-03074-YGR (TSH)

Re: Dkt. Nos. 268, 272

Case No. 20-cv-05640-YGR (TSH)

Re: Dkt. Nos. 290, 309

The Court's January 26, 2021 order stated in part:

11-cv-6714 ECF No. 371; 19-3074 ECF No. 241; 20-5640 ECF No. 261. These motions to seal are granted in and denied in part. Apple's proposed redactions to the joint discovery letter brief concerning the Cue and Federighi depositions are acceptable. As Apple has already filed in the public record the redacted letter brief, no further action is

1 necessary as to that document. Apple's proposed redactions to exhibit
2 1 are not acceptable, so the motions to seal are denied as to that
3 document without prejudice to Apple filing a narrowly tailored
4 motion. The motions are denied as to exhibits 2-7 because Apple, the
5 designating party, does not seek to seal them. Accordingly, no earlier
6 than four days from today, and no later than ten days, Plaintiffs may
7 file those exhibits in the public record.

8
9 The Court's February 2, 2021 order stated in part:

10 The Court's January 26, 2021 order concerning the motions to seal
11 denied some of Apple's motions to seal in part without prejudice to 12 Apple filing a narrowly tailored motion. Apple's deadline to file those 13 narrowly tailored motions is February 5, 2021. If Apple does not file
14 narrowly tailored motions to seal by that deadline, the Court's denial
15 in part of Apple's motions to seal will become with prejudice.

16 The Court has reviewed the dockets in these related actions and does not believe that
17 Apple filed a narrowly tailored motion concerning exhibit 1 by February 5, 2021. However, there
18 are now hundreds of docket entries in each of these actions, and the Court wants to be sure it did
19 not miss something. Accordingly, the Court orders Apple to file a notice by February 17, 2021
20 stating whether it filed a narrowly tailored motion for exhibit 1, and if so, what ECF number it is 21 at.

22 IT IS SO ORDERED.

23 Dated: February 12, 2021
